Northwest set to gain fire station in new year

By Martie Thompson
editor@floridanewsline.com

With population growth comes the need for additional county services and in early 2020, St. Johns County plans to open its newest fire station — Station 19 on Veterans Parkway near the corner of Race Track Road.

“The construction project has been ongoing for about four months,” Deputy Chief of St. Johns County Fire Rescue Jeremy Robshaw said. “Our goal for completion is late winter/early spring of 2020.”

Station 19 will have three bays.

The 9,000 sq. ft. fire station, which will cost $3.4 million inclusive of apparatus, according to Robshaw, will have three bays with an anticipated initial staff of three for the suppression vehicle (either a fire engine or ladder truck) and two people for the rescue vehicle or ambulance.

“All of this is budgeted in the 2020 county budget,” Robshaw said.

Presently a multitude of stations support the area where Station 19 will be built: Station 2 on State Road 13 North, Station 17 on County Road 210, Station 15 on US Highway 1 North, and Station 18 in Nocatee. But according to

Bartram Trail Branch Library reopens, resumes regular program schedule

By Martie Thompson
editor@floridanewsline.com

Despite a slight delay due to the projected track of Hurricane Dorian, the Bartram Trail Branch Library reopened at 60 Davis Pond Blvd. on Sept. 6. The 14,980 square foot library had been closed for the summer to make needed repairs to the sprinkler system. All fire sprinkler pipes and fixtures throughout the building and library exterior were replaced. Because this project addressed the entire building's fire suppression system, it was necessary for the branch to remain closed to staff, volunteers, and patrons through its duration.

Librarian Chett Wood explained that the fire suppression system, which uses no water, was updated. The system uses non-flammable and non-conductive nitrogen instead, and basically pulls oxygen from the room and replaces it with the nitrogen, which then smothers the fire.

“Probably the biggest visible change is to the pipes,” Wood said. “If you look up at the ceiling, they used to be white. Now they are a gold color and blend in better with the wood.”

Wood said that during the closure, everything in the library was securely wrapped and covered and left in place except for the mobile collection they took to the temporary library location. When the library reopened, staff and volunteers removed the temporary coverings, updated computers and processed collection materials before reopening the library to the public.

Many library programs were continued during the summer at temporary locations, but Wood said the regular program schedule will begin again at the library beginning on Oct. 1.

On Saturday, Oct. 5, there is a wide range of programs — from American Sign Language class with Creekside High School students at 10:15 a.m. to Read to Rover with beginning readers practicing reading to certified therapy dogs at 11 a.m., to a new program, Dungeons and Dragons, from 2 p.m. – 4 p.m. Gentle yoga and meditation is offered in the Bartram Room at 10:15 a.m. on Friday, Oct. 18. A family event, Bingo for Books, will be held on Saturday, Oct. 19 at 2 p.m. Attendees will have the opportunity to add a new book to their personal collections. The Crafty Women will meet on Friday, Oct. 25 at 10:30 a.m. to build a library tote bag. Registration for this event will open on Oct. 4; visit the Reference Desk or call (904) 827-6960 to sign up. Programs are sponsored by the Bartram Trail Friends of the Library. Visit www.sjcpls.org/branches/bartram-trail-branch/ to check out activities and programs for the entire month.

“We are super excited to have the library reopened and have our programs back in our facility,” Wood said.

Creekside football builds program with “Work to Win” attitude

By Heidi Brososky-Weaver
mail@floridanewsline.com

After two winless seasons in 2015 and 2016, something dynamic happened to Creekside High School's varsity football team. The Knights started winning more. Games became competitive. Players soon realized the program's potential, and the 90-member team grew to 135 strong. Now, as of press time, Creekside has a winning record, including a victory over last year's state champions.

So, what turned this program around? Ask the players who have been at CHS a while, and it's a sure bet they'll say it was the arrival of head coach, Sean McIntyre.

“Coach Mac has taught us to play hard the whole game and not quit,” said senior quarterback Quinn Seiger. “He makes us understand that we can really be good if everyone plays as a team.”

Tight end Shane Calhoun agreed. “Coach teaches us that as a team, we can work to get what we want.” The senior admires McIntyre's work ethic and said the team does not want to disappoint him. “He always wants the best for us, and he sees more potential in us than we see in ourselves.”

What can 3D mammograms do for your peace of mind?

New breast imaging technique makes breast cancer easier to see and reduces false positives.

3D mammography (digital breast tomosynthesis) is approved by the FDA and is quickly becoming the standard of care for breast cancer screening. Because it's a newer technology, 3D screening mammography is not available at all screening facilities – but it's available at Baptist Medical Center South.

3D screening mammography is different from a 2D mammogram:

- 3D mammography makes it easier to see the layers of breast tissue, allowing for better cancer detection.
- 2D mammograms take one picture across the entire breast, in two directions: top to bottom and side to side. Unclear or suspicious findings from 2D views can increase the need for additional imaging and also lead to more false positives.

3D mammography is designed to overcome these limitations. 3D imaging technology moves in an arc around the breast to take X-ray pictures from many angles in seconds. A computer quickly assembles the pictures to produce clear, highly focused 3D images. This allows the radiologist to view the entire breast, layer by layer, for a more accurate screening — especially important for anyone with dense breast tissue or patients with an increased risk of breast cancer.

Ask your doctor to recommend a facility that offers 3D mammograms. Or simply contact Baptist South, now offering easy-to-schedule appointments for 3D screening mammograms.

with St. Johns County Property Appraiser Eddie Creamer

Q: At what part of the calendar year is the Property Appraiser's Office?

A: TRIM notices are out and tax bills for 2019 are next. We are moving on to the 2020 tax year, and it is not too early to talk about filing for exemptions. Until March 1, 2020 people in the county who qualify for an exemption need to apply. You don't have to wait until the beginning of the year; you can apply now online (www.sjcpa.us) or in our office.

Q: What are some of the exemptions that are available?

A: First is the homestead exemption, which carries a $50,000 reduction in assessed home value. To qualify, you must live in your home as your primary residence on Jan. 1, 2020.

Also available is the Low Income Senior Exemption. If a homeowner is 65 years of age or older, with an adjusted gross income of $30,174 or less, they would qualify for an additional $50,000 exemption. If the home the senior lives in now has been homesteaded for the past 25 years and the value of the home is $250,000 or less, the senior may qualify for a total exemption of county taxation. This is called the Long Term Senior Exemption.

Other exemptions include:

- Widow/widower, $500
- Blindness or other permanent disability, $500
- Permanent and totally disabled homeowners' homesteads may be exempt in entirety

- Military veteran, $5,000
- Totally and permanently disabled veterans' homesteads may be totally exempt from taxation
- Homeowners who are 65 years or older and have combat-related injuries may receive an extra exemption
- Surviving spouse of a veteran who died in combat while on active duty may qualify for a total exemption
- Servicemembers who are deployed during the year may qualify for a total exemption for the portion of the year in which they are deployed
- Totally and permanently disabled first responders, if the disability occurred in Florida, may be totally exempt, as would their surviving spouse.

Q: Do you have any tips for navigating whether one qualifies for an exemption or not?

A: As you can see, there are a lot of specific exemptions, more than we can go over here. My best advice is if an individual thinks they may qualify, please call our office. I am constitutionally mandated to make sure citizens receive every exemption to which they are entitled. An additional request is please don't wait until the last minute.

Q: What is the best way for our readers to contact you?

with St. Johns County Commissioner
Jimmy Johns, (District 1)

Q: What can you tell us about what the county is doing regarding the recent breach at Summer Haven from Hurricane Dorian?

A: We approved $500,000 to fill the breach in the berm at Summer Haven. The Florida Inland Navigation District has money from the Army Corps to dredge in the area, but the sand is supposed to go elsewhere. As we have before, we are going to work with them to try to put the sand where we need it at the Summer Haven breach in the area of the Old A1A, which has been deeded to St. Johns County as an access road serving approximately four to six homes. This is the third time we have had to spend money to shore up this area.

I'd like to hear from people: should we be spending money — by legal decree because we have to maintain the public right of way (Old A1A) — for homes that are possibly not now inhabited or are inhabitable due to damage from Hurricane Matthew? I'm trying to find the best use of our funds, not just spend money because we have done so in the past.

Q: Do you have an update on the MSTU that was contemplated for Ponte Vedra Beach residents as a source of local funding for beach renourishment in that area?

A: I would like to hear from the public about this issue as well. Previously, Ponte Vedra Beach residents requested a special taxing unit known as an MSTU to help pay for beach erosion. The Board of County Commissioners approved the establishment of the MSTU and the millage and provided for it to be funded in the next fiscal year; it would have been on the tax rolls for these homes (approximately 300 homes). In September, the board voted 3 – 2 to basically undo the second part and withdrew the millage funding. Therefore, the $700,000 that would have been paid for by the residents and their MSTU was withdrawn instead from the county's general fund.

Keep in mind that this money is only to identify sources of sand for the beach. I've been told that to have a managed beach system similar to Jacksonville Beach would cost, on average, $1.5 million – $2 million per mile of beach. I want to make sure I'm hearing from the majority of our constituents as to how best to use funds that are available to us.

Q: Can you comment on the county's legislative action plan for this year?

A: It is much the same as last year and transportation is a priority. The First Coast Expressway remains number one on our list. We did receive funding for one leg of the 312 bypass around St. Augustine; this is a huge project and will need to be funded over time.

Q: Are there any other new transportation projects you can share?

A: The new bridge over the St. Johns River to replace the Shands Bridge will begin construction in 2021. Funding is approved and soon we will see 20 – 30 years of conversation turn to active construction.

Under consideration as a new idea is a new east-west corridor linking US Highway 1 near the St. Augustine Airport to Interstate 95, to include an interchange on Interstate 95. This would literally take years to come to fruition, but it's important to get citizens' ideas at early stages. We want to focus on areas supported by the community.

Q: Do you have anything else to share with District 1?

A: Several healthcare facilities are in the works for the Northwest, in the approval and permitting stage, due to the density of homes and quality of the workforce here. This has a couple of benefits: a closer commute for healthcare needs and new, high income jobs for citizens in the area.

Q: What is the best way for our readers to contact you?

A: Readers can email me at bcc1johns@sjcfl.us or call me at (904) 615-7437.

Member, Beverly Slough, District 1

Q: What is the latest on the new High School HHH?

A: We are still on track to open in 2021. At our recent (mid-September) workshop, the school board was presented with the proposed academies. Our focus is for the future — highly skilled, high wage occupations in high demand. The three academies will be Health and Wellness, with a focus on ambulatory care; Emerging Technologies with a focus on artificial intelligence; and Construction Management with a focus on innovation in building environments. During construction we need to plan to provide a learning space that will best enhance these academies.

Q: Have you seen what the school will look like?

A: The architect has presented us with renderings and the school is so beautiful, especially the auditorium. It will seat more than 800 — the largest by far of any of our schools — and may be used for community events. Our focus is on functionality, safety and security.

Q: What can you tell us about the issue of student safety on Longleaf Pine Parkway?

A: Students on the north side of Longleaf Pine Parkway have to be bused to Freedom Crossing Academy even though they live less than one mile from the school because there is no safe way for them to cross Longleaf Pine. This affects 536 students. We're going to enter into a Memorandum of Understanding with the county to install a crosswalk with a warning light (not a traffic signal) at the intersection of Mahogany Bay Drive/Shetland Drive at Longleaf Pine. We expect it to be completed before the beginning of next school year.

Q: Can you give us a budget update?

A: We just had a special board meeting to approve the final budget, which will be $792,464,705 this year. This is the total budget, which includes general funds and capital projects. We also approved the millage for next year, which went down .0142 mills to 3.888 mills due to legislative requirements.

Q: Has the school district determined the weather days from Hurricane Dorian?

A: October 14, originally a teacher planning day, will now be a school day and count for one make up day. We provide more instructional time per day than needed and we were able to capture some of the overage for the additional two make up days.

Also, I'd like to make sure people understand that the reason we didn't open the schools after the hurricane until Friday was because six of our schools were shelters, including two for pets and one for special needs people. We needed to have time to clean the facilities on Thursday after the shelters closed on Wednesday, which resulted in school resuming on Friday.

Q: How can our readers contact you?

A: They can email me at beverly.slough@stjohns.k12.fl.us or call me at (904) 547-7510.

Robshaw, there is a gap in the area surrounding the proposed new station, especially as pertains to the Insurance Services Organization (ISO) five mile requirement. From an insurance perspective, one of the factors considered in home insurance premium is if a home is within five miles of a fire station.

"This new station will relieve some of the strain on our other resources," Robshaw said. "For us this will mean a faster and more efficient response time, but for residents it will likely mean a savings on their insurance."

with St. Johns County Supervisor of Elections Vicky Oakes

Q: What are you busy with at the Supervisor of Elections office this fall?

A: We are getting ready for our voter education programs in high schools. Annually, we go to each high school in the county and target the senior class for our presentation. We offer voter education and voter registration on site. Some students can pre-register at 16 years of age and then when they turn 18, they can vote immediately. We offer these programs throughout October and November. We also go to St. Johns River State College and other colleges.

Q: What do you cover?

A: We go over the importance of voting with a focus on the 2020 elections. A lot of our senior students will be voting for the first time in 2020. We like to address two classes at a time in an auditorium, but we also go directly into classrooms with our presentation. We talk to the students and allow them to ask questions and we try to clear up any misunderstandings.

Last year, we went to the Florida School for the Deaf and Blind too. We take our ADA-compliant ExpressVotes election equipment and let the students have a hands-on opportunity to vote and see how easy it is.

Q: Do you hold other voter drives outside of high schools?

A: Yes, we also do community events. We bring awareness of the 2020 elections and get people prepared to vote with our voter registration drives. On Oct. 19, we will be at the Nocatee Farmers Market. We try to visit areas all over the county.

Q: How can people find out where the voter registration drives are?

A: We have them listed on our website on our calendar. If a civic or neighborhood group wants to schedule our office for a voter registration drive, all they need to do is call or email us. Let us know the date and location of the event and we will be happy to come out.

Q: What is the best way for our readers to contact you?

A: Readers can email me at voakes@votesjc.com or call me at (904) 823-2238. Our website, www.votesjc.com also has a wealth of information.

The Home of the Brave

By Scott Grant
ScottGrant@StJohnsBusinessMonthly.com

He was born in 1919 outside Knoxville. It is doubtful that the farm boy from Tennessee ever met a Jewish person prior to enlisting in the Army as a private. He enlisted at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. in March 1941, before Pearl Harbor, before the U.S. entered World War II. He served for the entirety of the war. Along the way he rose to the rank of Master Sergeant and was in France after D-Day when his unit, part of the 106th Infantry Division, was overrun during the Battle of the Bulge. He and many of his brothers in arms were captured by the Germans.

That is how Master Sergeant Roderick "Roddie" Edmonds found himself as the senior non-commissioned prisoner of war in Stalag IX-A. Unlike the movies, officers and enlisted personnel were normally held in separate camps by the Nazis. Stalag IX-A contained nothing but non-commissioned officers. Master Sergeant Edmonds was the ranking noncom in the camp, a camp that held 1275 American soldiers.

In January 1945, the Kommandant of the Camp, an SS officer named Major Siegmann, ordered Edmonds to have only the Jewish soldiers fall out for roll call the following morning. Edmonds realized that if he complied with the odious command, he might well be signing the death warrant for approximately 200 Jewish prisoners, all of them members of the U.S. Army. The next morning it was bitter cold. Edmonds ordered the whole camp to fall out.

Seeing all the prisoners standing in formation, Major Siegmann approached in a furor and bellowed, "They cannot all be Jews!"

Edmonds' heroic response, "We are ALL Jews here," still brings goosebumps.

The jack-booted Aryan was infuriated. He repeated his command for Edmonds to segregate the Jews under his command. Edmonds refused citing the Geneva Convention. The enraged Nazi then pulled his Luger pistol and placed the barrel against Edmond's forehead and repeated his demand. At that point, Roddie Edmonds of Knoxville, Tennessee performed one of the bravest acts of man ever committed.

"You can shoot me," he told the frothing Nazi, "but if you do, you are going to have to shoot all of us because we know who you are and you'll be tried for war crimes when we win this war."

Major Siegmann, an SS Officer, a man used to terrorizing the weak, holstered his weapon and stormed off with his tail between his legs. Two hundred Jewish-American G.I.s were saved from near certain death.

Edmond's story was not told for decades. Like many of his generation, he was quiet about his experiences during the war. It was not until long after his death that he was recognized for his bravery by the State of Israel in 2015. Bills seeking to award him a Congressional Gold Medal have stalled in Congress for more than three years.

Roddie Edmonds is a poignant reminder of the fact that we are always stronger when we stand together.

Meet Jason Odom of North Florida Lawyers

Jason Odom

Jason Odom serves as the membership chair of the North Business Council of the St. Johns County Chamber of Commerce. He is also one of four partners in the law firm North Florida Lawyers PLLC. Odom has a varied background that includes service in the Army National Guard and a stint as a train engineer for CSX. After an injury on the job that made it impossible for him to return to this work, he decided to go to law school since he had always liked helping people. In 2012, he graduated from Florida Coastal School of Law, where he graduated with Pro Bono honors. He worked for the Harrell and Harrell law firm and then had the opportunity to work with some of his best friends when together they founded North Florida Lawyers.

Q: What types of law do you practice?

A: I practice family law, business litigation, criminal defense and I am also an accredited veterans attorney. I teach the Veterans Benefits Clinic and the Sealed and Expungement Clinic at the Florida Coastal School of Law.

Q: How did you become interested in veterans law?

A: I am a veteran and I like to give back. I feel the veteran community is underserved and I like being in a position to help.

Q: What is your biggest challenge as a business owner?

A: Probably saying "no." I like to help people and I will spread myself too thin. While I will always get everything done that I promise, it's sometimes to my personal detriment.

Q: What are your long term goals?

A: I would like to focus more on business litigation and attract more clients for general counsel work. We would also like to open a stand alone office in St. Johns County and hire a few more attorneys for the firm.

Q: What do you do at the North Business Council?

A: As membership chair, when new people show up, I reach out and see if there is anything I can do to help them grow their business in the community. Sometimes we go to coffee and I can explain the benefits of belonging to the North Business Council. I'm the self-appointed door man — I like to greet everyone and make them feel comfortable.

Q: What is the best thing about being a part of the North Business Council?

A: Networking is important in everyone's business. The North Business Council offers a great opportunity to network with like minded small business owners that you get to know and trust. I like to try to build relationships. Sometimes it doesn't work out for business, but I've made some great friends. Plus, it's nice to get out of the office for a little bit!

The North Business Council meets the third Tuesday of each month at 8 a.m. at Westminster Woods on Julington Creek. Visit www.sjccchamber.com for more information.

We Support the Girls

By Dianne Battle
mail@floridanewslines.com

Relief agencies are still scrambling to provide aid to victims of Hurricane Dorian, but St. Johns CARES (www.stjohnscares.org) has not lost sight of our own residents who have ongoing needs. For instance, there are disadvantaged female adolescents in our public school system who cannot obtain feminine hygiene products that would allow them to attend school regularly. They also do without toiletries and bras. Impoverished adult women suffer the same privations, and may miss work or important events because they lack these items.

In affiliation with I Support the Girls (www.isupportthegirls.org), an international charity providing aid to females in disadvantaged populations, school districts, and disaster relief sites, St. Johns CARES is devoting the month of October to alleviating these needs in homeless or underserved women and adolescents in our county. We are asking individuals and clubs for donations listed below:

- Whole or partial boxes of feminine hygiene products (each item must be individually wrapped)
- One-quarter mile of new or gently used bras laid end to end. All sizes accepted.

- Hotel or sample size toiletries

Donations may be dropped off at businesses, boutiques, and spas that specialize in female clientele and where you see our poster, such as The Pink Nickel in Fruit Cove. Visit www.stjohnscares.org for a complete list of donation host sites. For businesses/organizations willing to serve as donation host sites during October or for assistance in finding a host donation site, contact president@stjohnscares.org or (904) 507-7740.

Monetary contributions are welcome and will be used to purchase additional feminine hygiene products:

- Mail a check to St. Johns CARES, Inc. at 450-106 State Road 13N #165, Saint Johns, FL 32259. Indicate the donation is for I Support the Girls.
- To pay securely by credit card, click the Donate Now button at our website, www.stjohnscares.org. Earmark the payment for I Support the Girls.

Donations will be distributed through the ASSIST (Aid and Support for Students in Sudden Transition) program (www.stjohns.k12.fl.us/homeless) and through missed one workout," he said, emphasizing the players' dedication.

A former high school wide receiver, McIntyre took the helm at CHS after serving 12 years in coordinator positions at Bay-side, Mandarin, and St. Augustine high schools. During that time, these schools won a combined four district titles and eight playoff games.

McIntyre says his coaching philosophy has evolved through the years, incorporating ideas "from the great people I've worked with." This includes his late father, Coach Tom McIntyre, who has a football stadium named after him at Melbourne High.

Although McIntyre makes no qualms about wanting to win every game, he doesn't measure success by winning and losing. "We don't train to beat somebody else, but to be the best version of us," he said. "If we play to the best of our capabilities, what else can we do?"

An American Government teacher and graduate of the University of North Florida, McIntyre stresses five foundations for success: toughness, work ethic, commitment, caring, and attitude. "These are all things that I myself and every kid on our team can control."

His believes these foundations help players "be successful in every aspect of life." In turn, they become better teammates, students, sons, and brothers — and eventually better husbands, fathers, employees, and leaders.

Running back Jalen Hines appreciates the foundations on which McIntyre builds his football program. "Coach gives us a lot more structure. He has a plan for everything down to the second," the senior said.

"By no means is it easy, but we try to make it worthwhile," said McIntyre. Along with his 15-member coaching staff, he is dedicated to making sure "every kid who puts on a helmet is cared about." He adds that he's thankful to be working for a leadership team, including principal, Steve McCormick, and athletic director, Luke Marabell, who are supportive and genuinely care about students.

Another crucial part of his team is his wife, Maegan, who is the "head coach" of the family and who encourages the players. "She cares about our boys and our success and allows me to be away from our family for many hours throughout the year," said the father of son Connor (age two) and daughter Paeton (10 months).

Although McIntyre has coached many sports, he said there's nothing like Friday night football and school spirit: "The large band, the cheerleaders, the full student section ... the excitement and magnitude of these games can't be replicated."

Fall Festivals!

Gourds, squashes and pumpkins, oh my!

By NewsLine Staff
mail@floridanewslines.com

Halloween takes place during a time of year characterized by earthen-colored chrysanthemums, leaf-lined walkways and crisp autumn air. As colorful as the costumes children wear for trick-or-treating may be, nature's beauty is unsurpassed this time of year, and the scores of pumpkins, gourds and squashes on display only add to that colorful melange.

The Cucurbitaceae family may be best known for pumpkins, squash and gourds, but there actually are 800 species that belong to this family. While they share many of the same properties, these fruits each have their own unique attributes.

The main differences between squashes, gourds and pumpkins is their intended purposes — whether they're ornamental or edible.

Squash: Squashes come in summer and winter varieties. Winter ones do not actually grow in the winter; in fact, they're harvested in late summer and early fall, but the name references the hard shell casing that protects the tender pulp inside. Zucchini are summer squash because their outer flesh is tender, while butternut, acorn, spaghetti, and hubbard squashes are winter squashes because they feature a tough skin. Even though it takes some effort to crack that shell, the dense, nutrient-rich flesh inside is well worth the workout.

Gourds: Gourds are essentially ornamental squashes; they aren't cultivated for eating. Instead they are bred to look beautiful and unique in autumn centerpieces.

Types of gourds include autumn wing gourd, warted gourds, turban gourds, and bottle gourds. Each gourd is unique in its shape and color.

Pumpkins: Pumpkins come in ornamental and edible varieties. Even though all pumpkins can be consumed, some taste better than others. Small pumpkins tend to be decorative because, according to Nutritious Life, they do not have enough meat inside to make them worthy of cooking; however, sugar pumpkins are best for baking and cooking favorite recipes, states the resource Pumpkin Nook.

Hygienic apple bobbing and other fun autumn game alternatives

By NewsLine Staff
mail@floridanewsline.com

Bobbing for apples is a game that has been around for centuries. An autumn tradition often associated with Halloween and other fall festivals, the concept of bobbing for apples is, according to History.com, rooted more in romance than Halloween trickery.

As a British courting ritual, young ladies and their potential suitors would vie for certain apples to land a potential mate. Eventually, the tradition faded into obscurity. But apple bobbing was reinvented in the Americas when immigrants introduced the game to children and adults during Halloween parties.

Recently, apple bobbing has fallen out of favor again, with parents lamenting the unsanitary conditions and potential spread of germs, not to mention the hazard of drowning. Thankfully, there are various alternatives to apple bobbing that can still make for an exciting Halloween game.

Hanging Apples: Rather than putting apples in a barrel full of water to float, tie strings to the stems. Then hang each individual apple to a clothesline. Without using their hands, participants must eat the majority of the apple of their choosing. Apples can be replaced with other treats, such as doughnuts.

Fishing for Apples: Attach a magnet to an end of string tied to a stick to make a fishing rod of sorts. Cut out paper apples and adhere something metallic to the cut-outs, such as paper clips. Kids take chances fishing out their selections. Each cut-out earns players a prize.

Candy Catch: Participants line up holding a small receptacle, such as a cone-shaped party hat turned upside down or a small plastic pumpkin. While an adult tosses candy into the air, the children try to catch it in their containers.

Apple Toss: As a variation on a beanbag game or ring toss activity, players can aim a plastic apple or pumpkin into a hole or barrel. Red ping pong balls tossed into canning jars or plastic cups can work as well.

Bobbing Twist: Party hosts can still float apples in a bucket of water, having participants bob in a different way. They can try to scoop apples out with a small spoon or two chopsticks. Let imaginations reign supreme while keeping germs out of the apples.

Scam phone callers, again

JEA call center representatives are receiving hundreds of reports from customers who say they've been contacted by someone threatening disconnection of service unless instant payment is made with a gift card. These scammers have called local residents and businesses claiming to be JEA employees who will shut off service if the payment isn't received within 30 minutes. JEA wants customers to recognize the scam:

- The caller will tell customers that their bill is delinquent or that the utility meter needs to be replaced
 - The customer is given a short time-frame, usually 30 minutes, to pay the entire bill
 - The payment instructions include going to Walmart, Winn Dixie, CVS, Walgreens or a similar store to purchase a "MoneyPak" payment card or gift card for a specific amount, and then calling back with the pin number to prevent their service from being disconnected
- "JEA wants customers to recognize, avoid and report the scam," said JEA spokeswoman Gina Kyle. "JEA will never demand that you purchase a gift card and provide a pin number to avoid disconnection."

Customers who receive one of these calls is urged to get as much information as they can and notify JEA at (904) 665-6000. Commercial customers may call (904) 665-6250 to speak with a JEA Business Support Team representative. Working in conjunction with Utilities United Against Scams (UUAS), the company will continue to do everything in its power to have the numbers reported to them taken down as quickly as possible.

Visit www.jea.com/scams for additional information on spotting the signs of a scam.

Current Events group reaches milestone

In the first week of November, Current Events will celebrate its fifth year bringing people together each week from throughout the St. Augustine and Jacksonville community to discuss items that are in the news. Since it began in fall 2014, Current Events has attracted neighbors who share an interest in discussing the news and enjoy sharing their opinions and interpreting those events.

At a time when many people talk only with people with whom they agree — who are in their "comfort zone" — Current Events provides an impartial and non-partisan forum to discuss news stories. What makes Current Events unique is the atmosphere of congeniality and civility that pervades and enables people to discuss news items without being judged.

Topics of discussion — both local and national — are those that are in the news, drawn from newspapers, online news sources or contained in any number of news-related publications. Recent discussions have focused on questions regarding funding to return astronauts to the moon; conflicts with the public's right to know versus a journalist's ability to gather and protect covert sources; the potential impact of 181 corporate executives' commitment to community, environment and employees' needs; cyber attackers by computer hackers on small municipalities and the value of ransomware; and the appropriateness of doctors screening all adult patients for illicit drugs.

Current Events attracts approximately 20 – 25 participants each week and meets regularly each Monday at 10 a.m. at the Amenities Annex at 625 Palencia Drive just off of Market Street in the small commercial area in the center of Palencia. The group has no requirements or restrictions and is not affiliated with any political or religious organization. A fee of $3 is charged that covers coffee and nibbles. All are welcome. Email Allan Silberman at ADSilby@yahoo.com with any questions.

AyoLane Halusky

By Martie Thompson
editor@floridanewslines.com

AyoLane Halusky

It's really no surprise that AyoLane Halusky is a St. Johns County Naturalist; his parents were both people in the natural world. His father, Joe Halusky, was a Marine Extension Agent for IFAS/UF and his mother, Marilyn, was a Duval County Extension Agent for 4-H. The family was always out in nature. Halusky grew up in Fruit Cove and attended Julington Creek Elementary for kindergarten through sixth grade and then Nease for seventh through 12th grade. He graduated from the Savannah College of Art and Design with a bachelor of fine arts degree specializing in metal-smithing. He said his personal mission is to build kinship with the Earth, which motivates deep connection with the local environment, sensitizing people to take on an active role in creating positive life journeys and communities. He is single and lives in Elkton.

Q: What did you do after you graduated from college?

A: I travelled all around the United States working with kids in trouble with the law as part of a reality therapy program that involved taking the kids out into the wilderness for 31 days. It was not behavior modification, but rather helping kids find and redirect themselves and set their own goals. I did this for seven or eight years as far north as Pennsylvania and as far west as Colorado. Eventually I moved back to Florida to work for the University of North Florida, where I recreated their eco-adventure program and wildlife sanctuary. This included designing and training staff for the Osprey Challenge Course, a high ropes course.

Q: How did you come to be a St. Johns County Naturalist?

A: Our family friend, Beverly Fleming, told me about the county naturalist position and since she knew me since I was very young, she was sure I would be a good fit. She recommended me for the position. I interviewed and got the job in 2013.

Q: What do you like best about being a naturalist?

A: I feel like my duty is to reconnect people to the outside world. My "secret agenda" is to provide the opportunity for people to have emotionally charged, positive experiences in nature so they have a heart anchor for the experience that connects them to nature. I lean towards "kinship" versus "stewardship" when talking about the natural environment and I feel like we need to be in a relationship with our natural world.

Q: Is there a St. Johns County Parks and Rec program that is of particular interest to you?

A: I've started a new multi-part program called "904 Naturalist" for the department, which balances the left and right brain as it pertains to nature. When you think about it, most of nature and what is taught in naturalist classes is memorization and science (right brain). I think the arts need to be added (left brain.) For instance, famed naturalist William Bartram was emotionally connected to the environment. He was an artist and a poet. Attendees in the 904 Naturalist program will keep a handwritten journal and go out in nature and sit and watch and listen and experience. The purpose is to be outside. Participants will have work to do on their own, too — both experientially and research.

Q: What do you do in your spare time?

A: It's hard for me to separate my mission on this earth and my life. I enjoy building kinship with the earth and helping others wake up their senses. So that's what I do all the time. I just get paid for it 40 hours a week and don't get paid for the rest.

Bartram senior takes break from books

By Delaney Cantrell
 mail@floridanewline.com

One of Bartram Trail's stellar academic students not only spends his time with his studies, but he also has a heart for helping animals. Senior Michael Guyot has volunteered with the St. Johns County Pet Adoption Center for more than a year and has now decided to spread the cause to the grounds of Bartram.

Guyot has spent the last four years devoted to his academics, which has paid off with him being at the top of his class. He is involved in many clubs such as National Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta, and Medical Club and is president of the National Hispanic Honor Society. Guyot, however, decided to take his impressive resumé one step further this year.

"I started volunteering at the St. Johns County Pet Adoption Center last spring with a friend," Guyot said.

They would go almost every weekend and visit with stray dogs and cats. This summer, he continued to volunteer but wanted to do more.

"I thought of how I could involve other people in this aspect of my life. I decided to start a school club in order to connect other students to the local humane societies and give them opportunities to spend their time giving attention to strays that really need it," he said.

The BTHS Humane Society Club's first year at Bartram will be led by Guyot and will be available for animal lovers to join. While the planning is still in progress, Guyot said that he hopes to be able to bring students to the shelter and see what it is like to volunteer there first hand. He also plans to host donation drives for items needed by local humane societies.

When asked his biggest goal for the year, Guyot said, "I hope to involve more people in our local humane societies. These shelters depend on volunteers for entertaining the animals and I hope that people will see that their time will go a long way for these animals."

He also hopes that those who are apprehensive about shelter dogs will find that not all are overly aggressive like they are often portrayed. He hopes that by the end of the year, more people will choose to adopt rather than buy from a breeder.

For those interested in volunteering at the St. Johns County Pet Adoption Center, their main duties will be to play with the animals.

"If they are feeling brave, they could also give one of the animals a bath," said Guyot.

Guyot hopes to continue volunteering at local shelters after graduating from high school. If there is not a humane society club at the college he chooses, he hopes to start one there as well. He plans to attend the University of Florida to major in biomedical engineering with minors in both Spanish and social disparities in medicine.

Guyot's main wish is for people to understand the needs of these animals.

"Even though volunteering for the humane society is emotionally draining at points (wanting to take all of the dogs home to a better place), it has been one of the most rewarding things that I have done throughout my high school experience," he said.

FAFSA workshop scheduled

The Bartram Trail Branch Library is hosting a free FAFSA/Financial Aid Workshop on Oct. 8 at 6 p.m. at the library, located at 60 Davis Pond Blvd. The FAFSA is the Free Application for Federal Student Aid and every student who applies to college must file the FAFSA. Colleges use this document to determine your child's financial aid and scholarship packages.

If you have a teen who will be entering college in the next couple of years, this is a great opportunity to learn about financial aid. Suzanne M. Evans, Director of Financial Aid and Veterans Affairs from St. Johns River State College, will give a presentation on financial aid and the FAFSA process, as well as provide information about grants and different types of student loans. Don't wait until your student is a senior to familiarize yourself with the FAFSA and why you have to fill it out.

Call the library at (904) 827-6960 for more information.

Creekside High School PTSO seeks members

Creekside High School's PTSO has been gearing up for a fantastic year. On Aug. 5, the group hosted a welcome back breakfast for teachers and on Aug. 16, the senior class was celebrated with a kick-off breakfast. As this edition of The CreekLine goes to press, the Sept. 20 Homecoming Carnival is on the horizon.

In addition to planning fun and informative activities, the PTSO helps advance initiatives such as "Be The Best You," a personal success program designed to inspire and educate students to make good decisions and cultivate the six Pillars of Character. The PTSO also helps fund capital projects and has purchased 3D printers, water filtration systems, bike racks, books and supplies for special programs. This year, the group plans to fund a sun shade over the outdoor amphitheater.

Creekside families who join the PTSO provide much of the support for these activities; membership fees and the employer matching gift program are the largest fundraisers of the year. Anyone can join and easy online enrollment via the Creekside PTSO website at www.chspto.org is available. There are incentives to join at each of the levels and anyone who joins by Oct. 3 is entered in a drawing to win special prizes.

Business owners are encouraged to become sponsors or participate in one of the upcoming events. Meetings are held at 9:30 a.m. the first Friday of each month in the professional library conference room, just off the main library. Visit www.chspto.org for more information and upcoming events or email Juliana Keaton, vice president of membership, at Keaton.Moritz@comcast.net.

Palencia Elementary School welcomes new staff

As Palencia Elementary School grows, there is often need to add new educators and staff to the Pirate Family. Among the new educators and staff this year are four individuals who will serve all of Palencia Elementary's 875 students.

Audrey Holtz is stepping up to the helm as assistant principal. She joins Palencia Elementary from Valley Ridge Academy, where she most recently served as the instructional literacy coach. Prior to that position she taught fourth grade at Durbin Creek Elementary School. Holtz graduated from Flagler College in 2008 with her bachelor's degree in elementary educa-

Q: Can you share some of the tools available to you when trying to solve a cold case?

A: Cold cases, which are defined as being unsolved after a year or more, are always challenging. But, especially with the advent of technology, we have many tools at our disposal to try to solve them. We can use forensic evidence like ballistics (shell casings) and DNA, which we submit to databases, many of which are shared nationally. Genetic genealogy is a new and useful technology. We have also used surveillance video, both at residences (like a Ring camera) or at commercial properties, and nanny cams inside homes. License plate readers are strategically located at intersections, allowing us to verify if someone has driven in the area. It's a brave new world and we can track people down in many ways.

Q: Do you have any examples?

A: We just had a big break in the Daytona Beach Serial Killer case. In 2005 and 2006, three women were raped and murdered in Daytona Beach. We had DNA profiles on two of the women, but no suspect. The third woman was linked to one of the two women via ballistic evidence. We put the DNA profiles in the Florida Department of Law Enforcement database, which contains both known and unknown suspects. Eventually, the DNA collected from a murder in Palm Beach County matched the Daytona Beach profiles, so now we have four victims.

Q: How did you find the suspect?

A: The breakthrough came using genetic genealogy — we were able to find a family member of the suspect via DNA samples that had been voluntarily submitted to a commercial genealogy site. Once we found a family member, we were able to identify the suspect. We started looking for him and once we found him, got a DNA sample and compared it to the unknowns in Daytona Beach and Palm Beach. It matched. We could then link him to the fourth murder via the ballistics evidence. It took many different tools to navigate the web of evidence and arrest the suspect.

Fishing

Capt. David's Fishing Report

By Captain David Lifka
mail@floridanewslines.com

It's been a few years since we've had a decent shrimping season. With a decent shrimping season comes some prime time fall fishing. Reds, trout, flounder, and sheepshead become the biggest targets of local anglers, with a nice variety of other species out there to still add to the cooler.

Salinity levels in the St. Johns River are one of the main contributing factors that help determine the quality and length of the annual shrimp run. Usually too much rain caused by an over-active rainy season, or too much rain dumped all at once from a passing tropical system can reduce the river's salinity levels to a point where shrimp and their predators leave our area waters for those a little saltier.

Weather conditions this summer (and now officially fall), have been very cooperative. Hurricane Dorian spared us with a glancing blow delivering much less rain than predicted. As a result, we are having one of the better shrimp runs we've seen in recent years. Our main shrimping locations from downtown to Green Cove have been providing an easy five gallon limit for weeks. Good numbers have even been caught all the way up Julington Creek to the Julington Creek Bridge in baited areas at night. As long as weather conditions remain similar, it's possible this year's shrimp run could continue to be strong well into October and beyond.

With a good shrimp run happening, it's only logical to expect the same for fishing. Fishing in the river for saltwater species usually comes to a peak this time of year because of some sort of shrimp run taking place. Usually the better the shrimping, the better the fishing to follow. Being able to catch and use the very same shrimp for bait that the fish are feeding on can make for a nice "catching" advantage. Tail hooking fresh caught live shrimp and fishing them on the bottom or on a jig head around a dock should produce a variety of bites. Live shrimp horn hooked on a float rig around docks or pilings should also provide plenty of disappearing floats throughout the trip.

Fishing Report: Lots of reds on docks, pilings, and schooling in the channels. Live, extra large shrimp is your best choice bait. Flounder is abundant, with sheepshead and trout increasing as fall progresses.

Whether you catch one, some, or none, the family time spent fishing will last a lifetime.

Email your Catch of the Month photo to catchofthemonthpictures@gmail.com. Be sure to include the name of the person(s) in the photo, the name of the person who took the photo, the type of fish and date and location of the catch. We will select a photo each month for publication.

tion and completed her master's degree in educational leadership at UNF in 2018. She has a strong background in curriculum and instruction and the Response to Intervention, Multi-Tiered System of Supports model (RTI/MTSS).

Another new addition to the school's manifest this year is new media specialist Heather Flowers, who previously worked as a media specialist in Duval County. Flowers completed her master's degree in school librarianship at Old Dominion University in Virginia.

Haleh Paciotti is also setting sail with Palencia Elementary this fall as the Instructional Literacy Coach. She is beginning her second year with St. Johns County Schools, but she has been an educator for 16 years. She began her career in Frederick, Md., where she taught first, third and fourth grades. During her time in Maryland she earned her master's degree in reading specialization and educational leadership and served as an assistant principal her last four years in Maryland before coming to Florida. Paciotti has recently gone on maternity leave, but she made sure everything was ready for her students before her departure.

Finally, Catherine Black has signed on as the new data operator. She has the important job of making sure each of the smallest crew members is registered for Palencia Elementary. She also oversees residency compliance and student absences.

Curious about Clearwater Beach?

By Debi Lander

Clearwater Beach is a great place for a stroll.

Travelers head to Florida for sunshine and world-class beaches. We locals enjoy the nearby Jacksonville and Ponte Vedra beaches, but TripAdvisor's list of Top Beaches for 2019, 2018 and 2016 gives Clearwater Beach on the Gulf Coast the number one ranking. Here's why you should consider making the four-hour drive, especially off-season.

Sink your toes into sugar white sand that's as soft as powdered sugar and doesn't burn your feet. The Gulf Coast owes much to the Appalachian Mountains for the steady flow of quartz crystals they send downstream and to the rivers that replenish the smooth, soft, white beaches all along the Gulf Coast.

Aptly named, Clearwater boasts clean, turquoise water, warm even in winter at temperatures generally hovering around 70 degrees. The wide-open beach runs two-and-a-half miles, offering a fantastic walkway perfect for strolling. Strategically placed buildings along the path include beach bars, bistros, coffee shops, and of course, restrooms. Lifeguards remain on duty throughout the year, and the Beach Lifeguard Station offers specially-built beach wheelchairs.

Although the main draw remains the inviting, family-friendly beach, visitors find plenty to do, with water activities and fun adult water toys abounding. Spend a morning or afternoon on rental jet skis, stand-up paddleboards or kiteboards, available at the main marina or at hotels. Look into the variety of boating and fishing charters.

Save time for a stop at the Clearwater Marine Aquarium, the set for the 2011 movie "Dolphin Tale," starring Harry Connick, Jr., Ashley Judd and Morgan Freeman. Another actor, however, stole that show. The film tells the story of Winter, a bottlenose dolphin who lost her tail, but was saved by researchers who created her a prosthetic one. Winter's story of survival spawned a 2014 sequel, "Dolphin Tale 2." This Winter added to the many visitors the other winter already brought, providing funding for a massive expansion due for completion in 2020. The Aquarium showcases other rescued animals, a petting tank, and educational shows — but don't be surprised to spot Winter swimming without her tail. Apparently, it tires her out — she can't wear it all day long.

Catch a dolphin cruise for up-close views of dolphins and manatees in the wild. Choose from a variety of vessels — a family-friendly daytime cruise (with booze), a boat looking like a giant shark with open jaws, or a pirate ship. The Aquarium's Sea Life Safari includes a naturalist who describes sea creatures from a net pull, then releases them.

Kids and adults love to search for more than 200 six-foot dolphin sculptures painted and displayed around the city on the Clearwater Dolphin Trail.

Capture sunset at the Pier 60 Daily Festival (milder than the one in Key West) with vendors, street performers and nature's colorful show. Clearwater boasts some 240 sunny days per year. Every April, Pier 60 hosts the Sugar Sand Festival that attracts sand sculptors from around the world.

Cruising in Clearwater

I was surprised and delighted with the quality of food served on the StarLite Majesty sunset dinner cruise. The meal began with cocktails, included three courses, then dancing with a DJ. At sunset, everyone stopped to revel in the luminous glow. The evening ended on the upper deck gazing at the night sky and city lights.

Great getaways include great food, and Clearwater Beach offers a variety of locally owned, non-chain restaurants. Don't miss tasting some grouper while in the "Grouper Capital of the World." My favorites included breakfast at Crabby's, lunch at Badfin's, Cooter's or Pearly's, and for a fancier night out, The Beachcomber.

Visit Clearwater Beach and see why it was named Top Beach.

Hope Floats announces upcoming fundraisers

By Kerri Henderson
mail@floridanewslines.com

Hope Floats is gearing up for the 2019 – 2020 fundraising season to benefit THE DONNA Foundation. Hope Floats and its members have raised more than $65,000 in support of THE DONNA Foundation. Through the Donna CareLine, this investment becomes more $325,000 of debt relief and services to families living with breast cancer.

Hope Floats will hold three events this year:

Oct. 5 – 7: Ultra-marathoner Marc Burget, husband of Hope Floats vice president and survivor Christina Burget, will attempt to run the distance of the trench that goes around the Death Star — 312 miles to stomp out breast cancer. The community is invited to join in the festivities; runners, walkers and pod racers are all welcome. This event will be headquartered in a Mandarin neighborhood located at 11537 North Ride Circle East. Marc Burget holds many records; he won the 26.2 with Donna on Valentine's Day for his valentine in 2016 and he later went on to win the Donna 110 ultra marathon in 2018 and 2019. He holds the record for the fastest Donna 110 and actually broke his personal record last year. For a minimum donation of $10, attendees will get a chance to win prizes, with t-shirts available for purchase.

The next event will be held on Saturday, Nov. 9 from 12 p.m. – 6 p.m.: the third annual Block Party for Breast Cancer at Taps Bar & Grill, located at 2220 County Road 210W in the Winn Dixie parking lot. This event will be rain or shine and will be an afternoon filled with family fun, food and friendship, featuring live music, signature pink cocktails, beer, all you can eat barbecue, face painting, balloon art, and a silent auction. The cost of the event is $12 in advance or $20 at the door. Adult beverage tickets are just $5 or $1 for water and soda.

The last event of the season will be held on Saturday, March 28, 2020. This is the third annual Shop Our Closets at Remax, located in Mandarin at 12646 San Jose Blvd. This event is a fashionista's dream come true and begins with an optional two-hour VIP Sip & Shop. Attendees may shop the hottest trends and classic women's gently pre-owned fashions during the VIP Pre-sale ($10 charge in advance/$20 at the door), while nibbling on some light bites and sipping mimosas or sangria. The sale is open to the public from 1 p.m. – 4 p.m. No item is priced more than $20.
